British Film Will Benefit Project

"Two Way Stretch", a satirical British film, starring Peter Sellers, will be shown here at Memorial Auditorium April 26, at 8 p.m.

This is a benefit performance sponsored by the Andover Chapter, American Field Service. This chapter is devoted to the student foreign exchange program initiated by the American Field Service. New to Andover, it is not new to this area. Many near communities, including Reading, have sponsored foreign students in the United States and sent their own students abroad for a year of study, since the 1940's.

The program began shortly after World War II with the belief that future peace depended on worldwide understanding of people for each other. More opportunities to know others at an early, impressionable age were deemed a key to

Craig Easton's Hobby Is Raising Pigeons For Racing

Historical Plaque To Be Dedicated

The dedication of an historical plaque will be the feature of the next meeting of Priscilla Abbot Chapter, DAR, which will be held at the home of John Ward Kimball on Holt Hill, Tuesday, April 9.

This house is called the Nicholas Holt house, and has been in the Holt family for 12 generations. The meeting is at 2 p.m. and several town officials and state officers of the D.A.R. have been invited to attend. Mr. Kimball will give a history of the house, which was built about 1715 on the highest land in Essex County, and its connection with the Revolution.

The hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. Leo O'Connor, former regent of the Chapter, Mrs. Guy Howe, the organizing regent, Mrs. Harold Leitch, Mrs. Jesse Bottomley, Mrs. George Glennie and Mrs. Arthur Bonner.

Many people look upon pigeons as a nuisance but to others, raising pigeons is a fascinating hobby.

Craig Easton, 36 Walnut ave., is an expert in this field. And so many pigeon fanciers come to see his prize specimens, it is not uncommon to see license plates on cars from all parts of the Country parked outside his home.

In the spring of the year, Mr. Easton, better known as "Marryin' Sam" to his family, selects pigeons known to possess the most desirable qualities and mates them. In about 18 days after the eggs are laid, the scrawny-looking babies emerge. Then in a surprisingly short time, they look quite like the older, mature birds.

Mr. Easton tells of an amazing record set by one of his birds back in 1921. A pigeon of his, who was just a yearling, flew 1,176 miles, the airline distance from El Paso, Texas to Gillespie, Ill., in just 10 days.

Boards Must Report Actions To Selectmen

HART REWARDED BY EARLY TENURE ELECTION

Junior High Principal William E. Hart was placed on tenure by the School Committee Tuesday night, in recognition of "outstanding performance".

His election came a year earlier than would normally be the case.

Many Appointed To Town Boards

Few changes have been made in the membership of appointed boards and committees.

The Selectmen approved appointments Monday night.

Newly-named are:

Dr. John Wholey, Board of Health, replacing Dr. Michael A. Gravalles, who requested retirement.

James T. Trenholm, 15 Westwind rd., Planning Board, taking the place of Robert Goodwin, who asked not to be re-appointed.

S. M. Sweet Jr., of Stinson rd., associate member of the Board of Appeals.

Mrs. R. Milton Cole, Mrs. Charles Leigh and Donald Sagaser, additional members of the Recreation Committee. Present members

Selectmen Laud Morse' Action

Official recognition of the closing of the Marland Mills came at the Selectmen's meeting Monday night, when members agreed to publicly thank Congressman F. Bradford Morse for his assistance.

The Congressman delivered a letter to the President this week, asking for immediate temporary action on imports, pending a final solution.

The J. P. Stevens Co. announced that the mill here will be closed, and blamed foreign imports, which can be sold for much less money than can the American-made goods.

Some 453 persons employed at the plant will end their work in about two months, according to the company.

The mill actually started here in 1807, when Abraham Marland began a small cotton yarn factory here. In 1821, he gained backing for a two-story plant on the Shawsheen River banks, Moses T.

All appointed boards and committees under the jurisdiction of the Selectmen will be required to report the action taken at each of their meetings, and list the attendance of members.

A resolution was adopted by the Board Monday night, on motion of Paul W. Cronin.

It states that each board and committee shall meet at least quarterly, unless the chairman of the Board of Selectmen specifies otherwise. Some boards must meet at least monthly, under the ruling, including the Planning Board and Board of Appeals.

The chairman may waive the quarterly provision for committees such as the Patriotic Holiday Committee, which need not function on a regular basis.

The resolution requires a full report of action taken at each of the meetings, and a list of members in attendance.

The reports are to be sent to the chairman of the Board of Selectmen, with copies to individual members of the Board.

Mr. Cronin suggested this action in order to have the Selectmen re-

Move Closer To Calling Bond

The developer of Rolling Ridge rd. will be given a last chance to finish work on the shoulders, and to install bounds, before his bond is called.

Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien was instructed by the Selectmen to act on the matter. He said the first step is a notice to the developer, giving him a deadline to meet.

Only if this fails, he continued, will the necessary steps be taken to call the bond.

It was also noted that the developer must only meet the minimum requirements set forth by the town, and for which the bond is held.

Summer Session Plans Announced

The Andover Summer Session, conducted by Phillips Academy, has announced plans for the coming summer.

The session will run from June 25 until Aug. 8, and will offer a variety of advanced and enrichment courses for boys from public and private secondary schools throughout the country.

Harold H. Owen Jr., director of the Summer Session, announced that among the courses given this summer would be a number not ordinarily given in the high school curriculum, such as Communism; Twentieth Century U.S.A.; The Problem of Decision-Making; The Art of Communication; Reading and Writing Short Stories; Probability and Statistics; Three-Dimensional Design; and advanced courses in biology, chemistry, and physics.

Not only are languages - both classic and modern - taught at all levels, but mathematics as well. A number of courses in literature are offered. In an attempt to overcome what many colleges have recognized as a national deficiency, the Summer Session requires a daily class in Composition of every student, to be taken at a level appropriate for his background.

Emphasizing the philosophy that the Summer Session is designed to enrich or awaken the able student, or to acquaint him with areas of study with which he was previously unfamiliar, Mr. Owen pointed out that the Session offers no academic credit for the six weeks' course, and that in fact many courses do not even give grades.

The entire facilities of Phillips Academy are available, including the new science building and the new art center, the gymnasium and pool, the Addison Gallery, the Oliver Wendell Holmes Library of 85,000 volumes, and the other athletic and cultural resources of the 450 acre campus.

The tuition fee covers room and board. Ample scholarship money is available for able boys who demonstrate financial need. The Summer Session is open to any deserving boy regardless of race, creed, color, or economic conditions, following the regular policy of Phillips Academy.

Operetta Planned For PTA Session

Shawsheen School pupils in the fifth and sixth grades will present the operetta "Stephen Foster" at the PTA meeting next Wednesday, April 10.

The operetta is based on a dramatic episode in the life of the famed American composer.

Directing the production is Miss Anne Harnedy, school principal. Mrs. Miriam McArdle, music supervisor, Mrs. Frances St. Germaine and Mrs. Rita Dubrule, assisted by Mrs. Pauline Durgin and Mrs. Margaret Fingleton.

A demonstration of the work done on melody flutes will be a highlight of the evening program. Grade four will be responsible for this portion of the program, under the direction of Mrs. Carole Rogentine, elementary music supervisor, assisted by Miss Florence McCarthy and Mrs. Virginia Garland.

The school orchestra, under the direction of Edward Grigoli, will participate.

for grades 5-6 should be included in the schedule. Whether or not the subjects are taught depends on registration prior to the Summer School.

The mathematics course will include material that the advanced mathematics class at the High School has covered - about 20 students take it during the regular school year. Mr. Danforth emphasized that the course has real value to any student going on to college, many of whom do not have sufficient background in the subject to handle it easily in their freshman year.

The science course will bear down heavily on scientific methods, by investigating problems in the children's scientific environment. The labs will be available so that participating fifth and sixth graders can carry out experiments.

Mr. Danforth emphasized that the learning of scientific facts will not be stressed.

The remainder of the curriculum to be offered this summer is virtually the same as in past years.

The course in composition, offered last year, will be repeated.

Otherwise, the courses are basically remedial. They include English 7, English 8, Math 7, pre-algebra, Algebra one and two, grades 5-6 remedial arithmetic, grades 5-6 remedial reading, grades 7-12 remedial reading, developmental reading for grades 7-12, French 1, Latin 1, personal typing, driver education, driver training, American history.

During his discussion with the School Committee, Mr. Danforth pointed out that the courses in typing and driver education are popular - many students find it difficult to take the courses in the regular year because of scheduling problems.

Last year, 225 youngsters attended the Summer School.

Petitioning For Good Government

A state-wide "Petition for Good Government in Massachusetts", urging a four-point anti-corruption plan for the Governor and members of the legislature, is now being circulated by the 12 demonstration Massachusetts Council of Churches.

Making the announcement was the Rev. Wayne W. Horvath, director of the Dept. of Social Relations for the Massachusetts Council of Churches. He stated that "many thousands of signatures are expected for the petitions which will be sent to all of our 1800 churches".

The petitions will tie in with special church services April 28, designated as "Anti-Corruption Sunday". At this time, Protestant clergy across the state will preach the need for morality in everyday life.

Highlights of the petition requests the Governor and legislators:

1. Enact the conflict of interest law without any weakening amendments;

2. Ban racing at fairs;

3. Make funds available for more men for the Criminal Investigation Bureau of the State Police;

4. To coordinate the work of federal, state, and local enforcement agencies for a unified attack on syndicate gambling, legal and illegal.

Mr. Horvath declared that the petition plan was created to "forcefully demonstrate to our state officials the deep moral concern of our citizens in good government at all levels."

success. Thus exchange of high schoolers for a year of living in the homes in foreign countries, attending their schools and participating in their activities was begun.

Robert Klie, president of the local Chapter, and Norman Viehman, director, have announced that Andover's chapter will be eligible to receive a foreign student next year when they have raised $650 as their share in the year's expense.

"Two Way Stretch" is their first town-wide project. Tickets are on sale at Cole's Hardware or from Mr. Klie and Mr. Viehman. Five high school students from foreign countries, spending a year in neighboring communities, spoke at an assembly at Andover High School last week. Under the sponsorship of American Field Service, Miss Maria Hernandez from Venezuela, Tom Falk from Sweden, Miss Yai Takakuwa and Mr. Rikuichi Yoshisue from Japan and Miss Rosemary Byerly from Australia held an enthusiastic audience of their experiences in the United States as foreign exchange students.

The program was introduced by Miss Margaret Scott, High School representative of the Andover Chapter American Field Service and moderated by Miss Kathy Plymter from Reading, who had spent seven months in South Africa last year as an AFS student.

Telling of the differences between their schools and the ones these students are now attending in Reading, Lexington, Wakefield and Littleton, Miss Takakuwa and Mr. Yoshisue said school six days a week was the rule, 13 subjects were studied by all high schoolers, but there was little homework. The social life was the greatest difference, however. For Japanese teen-agers who are going on to college, there really is none.

In Venezuela, school recesses for two and one-half hours in the middle of the day for a large meal and siesta, but then the pupils attend classes until after 5 p.m. Mr. Falk got a large hand from the audience when he told Andover High School students that there was a law in Sweden that there be no homework over weekends.

The foreign visitors were asked what they would take back home from America if they could choose just one thing. Both of the Japanese students stressed American food, hamburgers, pizza, and pancakes and maple syrup. Miss Byerly wants to take a White Christmas to Australia. Mr. Falk would take baseball to Sweden. Miss Hernandez will take cheerleaders to Venezuela.

Mrs. Douglas Jordan and son, David, have returned to their home on West Parish dr., after spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gerner of New Britain, Pa.

Cronin Heads Fund Solicitation

The Multiple Sclerosis Society will start this week to solicit for volunteers to march for their campaign, which begins May 12, and runs through June 16.

Paul W. Cronin, selectman and campaign chairman for Western Essex County, said that he hoped everyone would join together and make the drive a success. He noted the many research projects that are being conducted in major hospitals and clinics in the United States. Research conducted in the hope of finding a cure for the disease. Considerable effort goes on right in the Massachusetts area at the Harvard Medical School, Massachusetts General Hospital, as well as Tufts Medical Center and the Boston Dispensary.

There are nearly 5,000 Multiple Sclerosis patients in Massachusetts and more than half a million throughout the United States.

Selectmen Act On Sub-Division

A proposed sub-division off Heather dr., which may connect with Highland ave., was actively discussed Monday night by the Selectmen.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff twice told the Selectmen that he considers the subject to be one for the manager and department heads to consider. But he explained that the Planning Board brought the subject "erroneously" to the Selectmen.

The matter was discussed in November, when the Planning Board was covering the subject of unacceptable streets with the Board. Now, he said, Planning Board Chairman has written to the Selectmen asking if they have any opinions on the proposal.

Members expressed some very definite ideas.

They feel that the proposed sub-division - requested by Atty Richard Simmers - can not result in street acceptance unless all town requirements are met. Highland ave. is about 20 feet wide, and they noted that 40 feet is the required width now. The sizes of water pipe in Highland ave. and Heather dr. were questioned, and it was felt that these should conform exactly to the present town specifications.

At the conclusion of the discussion, Selectman Philip K. Allen turned to the town manager with the suggestion that he now has ample idea of how the Selectmen feel about the proposal, as a guide to his own approach to the problem.

Study Committee To Number 15

A committee of about 15 persons will be appointed to carry out the Selectmen's desire to review the town manager charter.

Each Selectman will prepare a list of possible appointees, the Board decided, attempting to balance the list geographically and in shades of opinion towards town management.

Selectman Philip K. Allen, who proposed the study, said he does not intend to circumvent town meeting action against a study, but feels the proposal does not do this.

He stressed that the membership of the committee should represent all points of view in the community as well as all sections of the town.

The Andover CO-OP'S Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

It was in North Andover on April 8, 1938 that the Andover CO-OP first got its start. As usual, the beginning was small, but it was not without significance.

Seven men and one woman gathered in a North Andover parsonage to form the Andover Consumer Cooperative Club for the purpose of buying food more economically. Each invested $5 to make a working capital of $40.

This "do-it-yourself" form of capitalism soon moved to Andover. The growth of the venture led to incorporation in 1938. Although most of the original founders have since moved away, most of them are still members of this organization.

Today's CO-OP has important similarities to the original concept: economy, do-it-yourself, $5 membership and (most important of all) operation by and for the consumer.

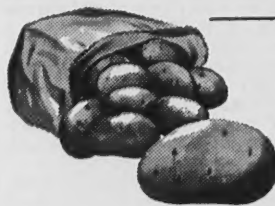

But there are differences, too. Today the CO-OP has close to 2800 members. It operates a large, attractive friendly supermarket in a central location with plenty of parking space. It does way over a million dollar's worth of business annually and distributes over $31,000 as CASH refunds to its owner-shoppers. It is even beginning to feel the pinch for space again as more and more canny citizens discover that this is THE place to shop for the family groceries.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Going Down The Road

Through inadvertence or design, the Board of Selectmen Monday night took a major step towards substituting their own authority for that specifically delegated to the town manager.

And they at least once ignored his statement that a specific sub-division problem should not be handled by the Selectmen, but instead should best be left to the manager and department heads.

First, and most significantly, the Board — with four members present — adopted a resolution requiring all appointed boards and committees to report on the business they conducted, after each session. The reports go directly to the chairman of the Board of Selectmen, with copies to the members.

Yet the town manager has direct responsibility for operation of the town government — and he doesn't even get a copy of the report. Most of the committee and board members are appointed by the manager, with the approval of the Selectmen. They are supposed to be the manager's appointments, not the Selectmen's. He is responsible for their conduct of the town's business.

Secondly, when details involving a proposed sub-division off Heather dr. were brought up, the manager twice told the Board that this is an area for the manager and department heads to handle — not the Selectmen. He was ignored.

It appears that, one way or another, the Selectmen are headed down a trail that can only lead to a weakened town manager system, substituting themselves for the manager in administrative activities which legally are not their concern. Strangely enough, it is the professed friends of town manager government, not its opponents, who seem to take the lead in this direction.

Proper Planning

Everyone in town is watching the progress of the architect and School Committee, as they look for a plan that will meet the school population needs for the next 7-10 years.

It can obviously be a multi-million dollar proposal, with both elementary and secondary schools under construction.

Such a plan no doubt would have plenty of detractors — it is understandably hard to face up to spending several million dollars in a short period of time.

But all we have to do is look back about seven years to see what should have been done in the way of planning. The present high school, it appears from hindsight, should have been built for at least 1,000 instead of 750 students. Even if some rooms, or a whole wing, had been empty for a few years, there would have been considerable saving in construction costs. Now, to add capacity for 1,000 or more, we may have to spend close to the original cost of the plant.

The architect and School Committee are trying to avoid a repetition of this situation, where schools become too full, too quickly.

It is their responsibility to do this, and to present the plan to the town. If the voters decide not to approve it, then the Committee will know that at least it did its best in the way of planning.

Should the School Committee decide to present only part of a plan, or a reduced plan, on the basis of what can be "sold" to the voters, the town could legitimately criticize the Committee. Thus the best procedure is to present plans for town needs, at whatever cost this entails, then it becomes the voters' responsibility.

Dangling A Plum

Gov. Peabody's drastic tax proposals, which have been met with enthusiastic disapproval, may actually have a better chance of passage now.

For the governor has approved a 50 percent pay boost for the Legislature, plus additional fringe benefits. But he isn't ready to send in the necessary special message asking for the raise, and accompanying funds.

We have a suspicion that his enthusiasm for the pay raises may vary somewhat, in direct ratio to the legislators' actions on the tax bill. It wouldn't be the first time that such a plum has been dangled enticingly before the members of the General Court.

Egg Tree Contest

Any family or individual planning to enter the egg tree contest should plan to have the decorated egg at the library by 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 13. Judging will be done on Monday, and the winners will be announced at the "Egg Tree Program" Monday afternoon, April 15, Easter Monday.

For those who are interested, there are full details available at the library, but anyone who wishes to work at once on the project may benefit from these few suggestions: all eggs must be blown out which is done by making an eighth of an inch hole in each end of an egg and blowing through one of them. The egg must be decorated with the contestant's own original design. It may be painted with a design, with no accessories or it may be decorated with paints and other material, such as cloth, paper, etc., or it may be a part of a group entry. For this, members of a family or group work together, with each one decorating an egg that will be part of a unit, such as related characters, a string of eggs, a star made from eggs, etc. Each person may enter one egg in each class.

On Saturday morning, April 13, there is a decorating workshop at the library in the Children's room from 10:30 to 12 noon. The library will supply dye, but those attending should bring their own eggs, pencils, scissors, paper, paste, etc. Blown eggs may be decorated for home use, but blown eggs must be used if the egg is to be entered in the contest. There are special classes for judging, running from grade 1 through adult.

Littlest Listeners

The Cardinal group of Littlest Listeners will meet at the library on Wednesday morning, April 10 at 10 o'clock for their story hour. This is the week that mothers are asked to bring in blown out eggs so that the children can have the fun of coloring the eggs and hanging them on the tree in the Children's room.

Ballardvale Littlest Listeners will have their story hour on Thursday, April 11 in the branch room. There will be a small tree there for the Littlest Listeners to decorate. Mothers for this group are reminded also to bring in blown out eggs. Dye will be provided at the library.

Great Books

The Great Books Discussion Group, now returning to the first year reading program, will meet at the library on Tuesday, April 16 at 7:30 o'clock.

Story Hour

This week's story hour, April 14, at 3:35 o'clock is in the form of a movie program to which all boys and girls are invited. The movies are "Hansel And Gretel", "Bantu Girl" and "Audubon And The Birds of America." The program will be over about 4:20 p.m.

Next Thursday there will be an "Anderson Fairy Tale" hour at the same time. Among the stories to be told will be "The Beetle", "The Tinder Box" and "The Little Mermaid."

How About Your Island?

It isn't too late to enter the three titles you want very much to have with you when you may be cast ashore on a desert island, some day. Several readers have found it to be fun and rather a challenge to their memories to list the three they would feel were "must" books. Three titles already provided on this island are "The Bible", "Pilgrim's Progress" and "Complete Shakespeare", you may recall. Drop your ballot in the box near the "palm tree" poster.

Prize Winning Books

There is always much interest in the book world as to which books shall receive the coveted Randolph Caldecott medal, awarded annually for the most distinguished picture book of the previous year, and the John Newbery Medal, given for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children, likewise published during the previous year.

Ezra Jack Keats, an illustrator of children's books for several years, won the Caldecott Medal last month for his illustrations in "The Snowy Day", the story of which he developed from a picture which he cut from a magazine 22 years ago. From the photographs of little Negro boy, Mr. Keats has told with words and pictures about the fun a little child had on a snowy day in the city.

The John Newbery Medal is given to Madeleine L'Engle this year, for her book "A Wrinkle In Time". This is an unusual story, written for children eleven and up; it explores the fifth dimension in the experience of three young people carried great distances out into space.

This is the 26th time that the Caldecott Medal has been awarded; the first one went to Dorothy Lathrop for "Animals Of The Bible"; the Newbery Medal went first to Hendrick Van Loon for his "Story Of Mankind" in 1922, followed the next year by "The Voyages Of Dr. Dolittle", written by Hugh Lofting.

Complete lists of winners of both awards may be had at the library in the Children's room.

Community Program Outlined

Anyone interested in the details of a proposed program for community action, as prepared by Mr. Irving L. Newman and presented in a meeting of the Exchange Club of Lawrence in mid-March, may see a copy of his outline at the Memorial Hall Library. The paper is in the vertical file under the subject Greater Lawrence. Ask for it at the desk.

WILL LECTURE

Dr. Donald B. Cole, chairman of the Department of History at Phillips Exeter Academy, will give a lecture on "Sino Soviet Relations" at Kemper Auditorium, Arts and Community Center, Phillips Academy, April 10 at 6:45 p.m.

The Lecture is presented by the Asia Society of Phillips Academy. Dr. Cole graduated from Phillips Academy and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Cole. The lecture is open to the public.

The BPW has announced that an inventory of tools and equipment will be maintained hereafter, in an effort to maintain economical operations within the department. Arthur Sweeney has been appointed as town counsel and Dr. John J. Hartigan as town physician.

The School Committee thinks it can save $2,300 annually by putting on another bus, instead of paying street car and railroad fares for children coming to the center of town. This has been costing $6,000 but a bus can be hired for about $4,000 or somewhat less.

Events Planned In Library Week

Once again the library world is ready to take the center of the stage as National Library Week approaches.

This year, the week of April 21 is to be filled with special observations at the Memorial Hall Library. As in the past, there will be displays of the new spring books in the main reading room and in the children's room. The adult reading room has three exhibits planned: Notable Books for 1962, with printed lists of the titles considered by libraries and book-sellers to be outstanding publications of last year; a large collection of last year's best-selling books.

The Y.W.C.A.'s Tasting Tour, which has been planned to raise funds for the development of Camp Y-Wood, will be held Wednesday afternoon, April 17, between 1 and 4 p.m.

Members and friends may visit seven Andover and North Andover homes, which range in type from Colonial and Cape Cod to contemporary.

The tour committee, headed by Mrs. Willard Currier, has planned the afternoon carefully to avoid confusion and bottlenecks. Although all guests will have an opportunity to visit all of the homes, they will begin in three different places as indicated on their tickets. At the "first house", detailed directions for the rest of the tour will be distributed. The three "first houses" will be the homes of Mrs. Frank Barber, Mr.

Designate Appointees Under Conflict Of Interest

The Selectmen have placed themselves in a "general employee" category - thus compelling members of the Board to abstain from doing any business with the town, or representing anyone before town boards.

While dealing severely with themselves, three members of the Board present at Monday night's meeting wanted it understood that all personnel classifications under the conflict of interest law are for the protection of the individuals, and in no way reflect on the Board's opinion of their honesty, capabilities or desire to serve the community.

Then, with the assistance of Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien, they classified all appointed and elected officials - into three categories:

General employee - no business with the town.

Special employee - may appear before boards and committees other than their own, but must have no contractual dealings with the town.

Special with exemptions - may deal with other boards; specific exemptions allow individual to do business with the town.

General Employees

Without any question, the three members classified themselves; and then listed town Counsel O'Brien, Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, Assessor William Russell; School Supt. Edward L. Erickson, Police Chief David Nicoll, Town Accountant Wendell Mattheson, Welfare Agent Paul MacMillan, Building Inspector Arthur Peatman, Officer William Tammany, Town Hall Custodian George W. Campbell, Town Clerk Irving O. Piper, Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton, and Deputy Fire Chief Albert Cole Jr. as general employees. Their names came up because they serve on an appointed board or committee.

Exemptions Granted

In a number of cases, appointees or elected officials were given exemptions so they can continue to do business with the town - but not with their own board.

The exemptions listed are:

Edmond Hammond, retirement board; School Committeemen William Doherty, John S. Sullivan and Vincent P. Davey - Mr. Doherty for insurance with the town but not the schools; Mr. Sullivan for any bonding handled by National Shawmut Bank or deposits therein; Mr. Davey so he can referee basketball games.

Warren Lewis and W. R. Hill, Sanborn School Building Committee, the former relative to bonds his firm might buy, the latter for all town business except that dealing with the school.

Civil Defense Director Burton Ratcheller, for all business except sale of vehicles or services to CD; Winston Briggs, same exemption.

Virginia Hammond, Planning Board exemption to allow her father-in-law, Edmond Hammond, to handle securities for the retirement board; Leo F. Daley, Library trustee exempt allowing him to

Raytheon Will Remain Open

Local Raytheon officials vigorously denied rumors this week that the plant will eventually be closed.

Vartkes Sohigian, speaking for the firm, stressed the absence of any plan leading to an end to Raytheon operations in Andover. His statement followed not long after a published denial by company officials, in response to queries by Congressman F. Bradford Morse.

Mr. Sohigian said there is not the remotest possibility, in his opinion, that any such drastic action will be taken.

Layoffs at the plant are continuing, he acknowledged, but these are not the forerunner for closing down the operation.

The plant population this week was pegged at 7,600 while the peak employment was recorded Jan. 1, at 8,000.

The company announced some

Cooking School Interest Grows

There's a buzz of excitement again this year about the Cooking Party scheduled for Wednesday, April 24, in Central Elementary Auditorium on Bartlett St.

This is the event being sponsored jointly by the Andover Consumers' Co-Operative, the Andover Townsman and Westinghouse Appliances, for the entertainment of every housewife and husband who likes to cook, shop or eat.

Co-ordinating the event for the evening will be Mrs. Jeanne Ambuter, who will cook a variety of tasty dishes on the newest Westinghouse appliances. These dishes will include a surprising new orange cake, Hawaiian style pork chops, a spicy apple dessert, a hearty ham and bean supper and a springtime salad. Each of these delicious dishes will be awarded as a door prize.

Following the cooking demonstration, United Farmers will serve milk and the Andover Co-Op will serve Nissen's doughnuts for refreshments.

After the refreshment intermission, Mrs. Ambuter and an expert from the Co-Op meat department will combine talents to present an illustrated lecture on

RAISES PIGEONS FOR HOBBY

Average speed for a pigeon to fly is 35 mph., although the birds are capable of flying up to 80 mph with a good tail wind. If the wind is against the bird, naturally, its speed slows down considerably. It is thought that a pigeon, when in flight, can see 60 miles distant on a clear day.

The common type of pigeons, generally seen roosting on public building, and referred to by those who know the difference as "bums", are not finely bred as are the kind pigeon fanciers raise. A well-bred, disease-free pigeon is fed properly, exercised carefully and in all ways is well cared for, with special emphasis on ventilation, sanitation and regularity.

Mr. Easton, who is originally from Kilmarnock, Scotland, came to Andover in 1941 by way of Gillespie, Ill., where he lived since coming to this country in 1914. His father and brothers have all been interested in birds of various types so Mr. Easton comes by his hobby quite naturally. He has belonged to many pigeon clubs and at present is associated with the Lowell Pigeon Club.

He has judged pigeons in shows held in Worcester, Lynn, St. Louis and Belleville, Ill. He is honorary president of the Knockentiber Community Association back in Scotland and has held membership since 1914 in the Clan MacIntosh 194, Gillespie, Ill. Retired, he resides with his wife and daughters.

Membership in the three societies, Dragon (1898), Sphinx (1886), and Casque and Gauntlet (1887), is granted to men who have made outstanding contributions to Dartmouth life. New members are chosen from the junior class by the graduating senior members.

At Dartmouth, Dubocq has been active in intercollegiate athletics. He was graduated from the Phillips Academy in June of 1960.
